

Berkshire Maestros – Privacy notice – Candidates

What is the purpose of this document?

Berkshire Maestros (“Maestros”) is a “data controller”. This means that we are responsible for deciding how we hold and use personal information about you. This privacy notice is available should you be applying for work with us (whether as an employee, worker or contractor). It makes you aware of how and why your personal data will be used, namely for the purposes of the recruitment or engagement exercise, and how long it will usually be retained for. It provides you with certain information that must be provided under data protection legislation.

Further information on how we comply with our data protection obligations and individuals’ rights and obligations in relation to the processing of personal data whilst working for or on behalf of Maestros can be found in our Data Protection Policy.

Data protection principles

We will comply with data protection law and principles, which means that your data will be:

- Used lawfully, fairly and in a transparent way.
- Collected only for valid purposes that we have clearly explained to you and not used in any way that is incompatible with those purposes.
- Relevant to the purposes we have told you about and limited only to those purposes.
- Accurate and kept up to date.
- Kept only as long as necessary for the purposes we have told you about.
- Kept securely.

The kind of information we hold about you

In connection with your application for work with us, we will collect, store, and use the following categories of personal information about you:

- Any information you have provided to us in a curriculum vitae (“CV”), covering letter or application form.
- Any information you have provided on an application form or equivalent, including name, title, address, telephone number, personal email address, date of birth, gender, employment history, qualifications, and criminal convictions history.
- Any information you provide to us during an interview.
- Information you have provided for us to undertake a Disclosure and Barring check (DBS enhanced check)

We may also collect, store and use the following “special categories” of more sensitive personal information:

- Information about your health, including any medical condition for which Maestros needs to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment or engagement process.
- Information about criminal convictions and offences.

How is your personal information collected?

We collect personal information about candidates from the following sources:

- You, the candidate.
- The recruitment agency, from which we collect the following categories of data: CV
- Disclosure and Barring Service in respect of criminal convictions.
- Your named referees, from whom we collect the following categories of data as provided by you on your application form or Curriculum Vitae (“CV”).
- The following data from third parties is from a publicly accessible source. Maestros use the Board of Trustees and external third parties such as the Arts Council to assist with the recruitment process in certain cases.

How we will use information about you

We will use the personal information we collect about you to:

- Assess your skills, qualifications, and suitability for the role.
- Carry out background and reference checks, where applicable.
- Communicate with you about the recruitment process.
- Keep records related to our hiring processes.
- Comply with legal or regulatory requirements.

It is in our legitimate interests to decide whether to appoint you to the role since it would be beneficial to our business to appoint someone to that role.

We also need to process your personal information to decide whether to enter into a contract with you.

Having received your CV/ covering letter and/or your application form or equivalent, we will then process that information to decide whether you meet the basic requirements to be shortlisted for the role. If you do, we will decide whether your application is strong enough to invite you for an interview. If we decide to contact you for an interview, we will use the information you provide to us at the interview to decide whether to offer you the role. If we decide to offer you the role, we will then take up references and carry out an enhanced DBS check before confirming your appointment.

How we use particularly sensitive personal information

We will use your particularly sensitive personal information in the following ways:

- We will use information about your disability status to consider whether we need to provide appropriate adjustments during the recruitment process, for example whether adjustments need to be made to any interview.

Information about criminal convictions

We will collect information about your criminal convictions history if we would like to offer you the work or role (conditional on checks and any other conditions, such as references, being satisfactory). This is in order to satisfy ourselves that there is nothing in your criminal convictions history which makes you unsuitable for the role particularly in line with the provision of Section 4 (ii) of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974. We have in place an appropriate policy document and safeguards which we are required by law to maintain when processing such data.

If you fail to provide personal information

If you fail to provide information when requested, which is necessary for us to consider your application (such as evidence of qualifications or work history), we will not be able to process your application successfully. For example, if we require a credit check or references for this role and you fail to provide us with relevant details, we will not be able to take your application further.

Automated decision-making

You will not be subject to decisions that will have a significant impact on you based solely on automated decision-making.

Data sharing

Why might you share my personal information with third parties?

All our third-party service providers are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal information in line with our policies. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes. We only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

Data security

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal information from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal information to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need-to-know. They will only process your personal information on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected data security breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected breach where we are legally required to do so.

Data retention

How long will you use my information for?

We will retain your personal information for a period of six months after we have communicated to you our decision about whether to appoint you to the role. We retain your personal information for that period so that we can show, in the event of a legal claim, that we have not discriminated against candidates on prohibited grounds and that we have conducted the recruitment exercise in a fair and transparent way. After this period, we will securely destroy your personal information.

If we wish to retain your personal information on file, on the basis that a further opportunity may arise in future and we may wish to consider you for that, we will write to you separately, seeking your explicit consent to retain your personal information for a fixed period of 12 months.

Rights of access, correction, erasure, and restriction

Your rights in connection with personal information

Under certain circumstances, by law you have the right to:

- Request access to your personal information (commonly known as a "data subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Request correction of the personal information that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected.
- Request erasure of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal information where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal information where you have exercised your right to object to processing (see below).
- Object to processing of your personal information where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal information for direct marketing purposes.
- Request the restriction of processing of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal information about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- Request the transfer of your personal information to another party.

If you want to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal data, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal information to another party, please contact the Director of Business Operations in writing.

Data protection officer

We have appointed the Director of Business Operations to oversee compliance with this privacy notice. If you have any questions about this privacy notice or how we handle your personal information, please contact Mr Andrew Minns. You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues.

If you have any questions about this privacy notice, please contact Human Resources on 0118 901 2356.
