

Services and Support for Schools in Berkshire

Intent, Implementation and Impact

Intent

We believe that every child should have access to the highest quality music education as part of a broad and balanced curriculum. Music promotes creativity, team work, perseverance, communication skills, and self-discipline.

A high quality music education has been shown to benefit academic progress in all other areas of the curriculum, for students of all abilities. Participation in musical activities benefits wellbeing, increasing the release of feel-good chemicals in the brain and reducing stress and anxiety.

Music is a practical subject, and all pupils should be given the opportunity to sing, play musical instruments and create their own music. Learners benefit from listening to the very best that every genre of music has to offer. The joy of listening to and participating in live performance creates memories that last a life time, and should be experienced by all.

A carefully planned music curriculum ensures that all pupils build their skills and knowledge, allowing them to perform, compose and listen with increasing insight.

Implementation

Our teachers go through a rigorous recruitment process to ensure that they have the subject knowledge and skills to deliver an excellent music curriculum.

They have access to regular CPD that is tailored to their needs and enables them to continually improve their music teaching and meet the needs of all learners. Teachers are observed regularly and our peer mentoring programme enables teachers to learn from one another and develop best practice.

All teachers ensure that learning is planned to meet Maestros Curriculum Objectives, and assess pupils against these criteria. Teachers are enabled to work together to share and develop resources.

Our Singing Strategy Development co-ordinators provide training and resources to ensure that high quality singing is an integral part of all music teaching.

Impact

Assessment in music should be holistic, and take account of a wide range of musical skills and understanding.

Teachers assess pupils' progress by observing their participation in a range of learning activities in which they have been singing, playing, performing, composing, and listening. In addition to progressing in their musical attainment, pupils will develop in confidence, wellbeing and social interaction.

Video and audio recordings provide evidence of progression. Progress is made over time, and evidence from a series of assessments are used to show this.

Students will re-visit skills many times over a key stage, and as challenge increases, may sometimes appear to be dipping in their attainment. However, as they consolidate new skills it will become apparent they have progressed further.

Pantomimus

Pantomimus is a creative approach to music making for EYFS/KS1 children. We provide a pop-up screen with an engaging and open-ended painting. The screen helps to focus the children's attention on the musical activities and can be used to stimulate imagination and as a starting point for exploration of themes and ideas.

Musical activities are devised to develop musicianship through movement, singing and playing instruments. Teachers and other adults in your setting are encouraged to join in so they can develop skills to carry on musical activities after the project.

The emphasis is on enjoyment and playful learning while getting actively involved. This mostly non-verbal approach to music making has been developed to engage all children whatever their culture, language and educational needs. It is truly inclusive.

Our band projects are a great way to provide instrumental tuition to your students at an affordable cost. Students will choose from different instruments within the chosen family. Our teacher will visit the school for two hours a week, during the school day, to deliver the tuition. This project includes:

Groups of up to eight students for each instrument

After School Music Clubs

We can offer after school music clubs that teach musical skills through fun games, playing instruments and singing. These can run at your school on a weekly basis.

Choirs

One of the easiest and most accessible ways of enhancing and increasing musical participation in your school is to offer a school choir. Whether this is during the lunch break, before or after school, our experienced choir leaders can help you get your choir started, support your existing choir development or lead the choir on your behalf.

Musicians for Assemblies

The opportunity to hear and sing alongside live musicians has been highlighted as being of key importance in pupils' creative development. Move beyond pressing 'play' on a backing track in assembly with our team providing a live accompaniment for an enhanced musical assembly.

School Productions and Events

School productions are often the highlight of the school creative calendar. We can help support and enhance your performances in many ways, from developing the chorus and solo singers, providing a pianist and musicians for a 'pit band' or even directing the whole show.

Using music and sound as a starting point, workshops are centred around communicating both musically and socially. Through a student led approach, the sessions develop week on week, allowing students to work on musical aspects such as rhythm, singing and call and response.

Workshops can be a sensory experience, focusing on how music feels to the individual. Small instruments, sound boards and fabrics are some of the resources used within each session. A tailored approach is crucial, with the practitioner able to work in collaboration with school staff focused on individual education plans.

Through the interactive sessions, pupils learn and develop the skills needed to execute a successful performance of their choice. They will explore a variety of ‘popular music’ instruments, participate in lessons on their chosen instrument, discover the art of song writing and the hidden elements behind the world’s most celebrated music, and work with each other as a band, concluding with a self-designed performance of an original composition.
